Reds Add to Ban On German Travel

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists cut down on already limited travel by their own citizens to Western Germany today. It was their most vigorous interference with traffic between the two Germanys since Berlin's new crisis began.

The latest Berlin trouble was generated Sunday by barricades erected against East Berliners going into West Berlin and against West Berliners going east unless they get special permits. Today the clampdown was extended beyond Berlin to the borders between East and West Germany.

Practically Stopped

West German guards all along the border said the arrival of East Germans at crossing points practically stopped.

Freight trains and trucks were permitted to travel in both directions as before, and Westerners going into East Germany were allowed through as long as their papers were in order.

But East Germans on westbound trains were ordered off at the West German border, even though they had visas and permits issued by Communist authorities.

At Helmstedt, chief rail and highway crossing near the middle of the 935-mile border, no East German cars were allowed through after midmorning. No East Germans were on trains crossing the Bavarian border.

Threatens Blockade

The East German government made no announcement concerning the situation. But it threatened Tuesday to put on another blockade like that in 1948-49 if West Germany cuts off East German trade in reprisal for the travel restrictions in Berlin.

Col. Andrei I. Solov'yev, commander of Soviet troops in Berlin, has taken no notice of the protest of the three Western commanders Tuesday against the new iron curtain across the city.

But he replied to an earlier protest against harassment of East Berlin workers commuting to West Berlin, and told the Western commanders they "cannot be taken seriously."

The Western protest Tuesday said the barricades have turned the city into an armed camp in flagrant violation of Soviet agreements to maintain Berlin as a four-power city.

6,250 Take Part In U. S. Test of Electronic Data

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Enemy bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles theoretically were over 10 million square miles of North America Tuesday in a six-hour test of electronic facilities.

The test was staged by the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) to train personnel in detection and defense direction facilities along

Ben-Gurion Drops Seats But Still Dominant Party

BY ERIC GOTTMETREU

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's Socialists Mapai party appeared to have lost three or four seats in Parliament but remained the country's dominant party. It will be the mainstay of the next government.

Ben-Gurion, now 74, is expected to form another coalition Cabinet made up of the Mapai, the new Liberal party, and possibly religious and left-wing Labor parties to give him a majority in the 120-member Knesset (Parliament).

TAXES, COSTS Blamed

Mapai losses were attributed as much to high taxes and the cost of living as to Ben-Gurion's fight to shut out former Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon from succeeding him when the perennial prime minister finally retires. Ben-Gurion resigned last January and forced the election as a result of the so-called Lavon Affair.

With half the votes in Tuesday's nationwide election counted, these were the totals so far, and Knesset seats: Mapai 140, 465-43 or 44 seats, down 4 or 3; Liberals 50, 74-17 seats, up 3; Herut, extreme right nationalist, 45, 455-16 seats, down 1; National Religious Front 40, 607-11 seats, down 1; Mapam, leftist labor, 37, 384-10 seats, up 1; Communists, 4 seats, up 1.

The remainder of the seats would be divided among seven minor parties that were registering about 10 per cent of the vote.

Lavon Affair Quiet

The Mapai percentage of the vote dropped from 38.2 in 1959 to 33.9, while the Liberals increased from 10.7 to 13.0. The latter was formed by a merger of the Progressives and the slightly more conservative General Zionists.

The commission would consist of the governors of the four states and a representative appointed by the President.

It would operate as an agency of all the states and the federal government and would be authorized to develop plans, policies and projects relating to the water resources of the basin area.

The agency also would be authorized to build and operate its own facilities, financing them with loans, grants, or bonds.

Dem Leaders Meet

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Democratic chairmen from 26 counties in Central and Eastern New York State gathered here today for a strategy session of the fall elections.

The agreement on the legislation, Udall said, did not include agreement on the federal position that all sales of hydroelectric power generated at the commission's projects would be subject to the preference clauses of existing federal laws.

"It was our final decision," the Common Council minority leader, wanted all to know at Tuesday night's recessed meeting of the aldermen that he had not relinquished his mayoralty bid because of any political pressure and he lashed out at "closed door" procedure, and what he considered "dirty politics" in city government.

The state has initiated court action to block the new welfare program. A decision has not been had that "The city would never be in any predicament, if it is run right."

By way of indicating further what he stood for in local government, he held that monthly publication of the status of city department budgets would keep the public informed as would full publication of proceedings in all board meetings.

Hastings Defends Move

Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, contended that in a two-party system, it would be "naive" not to expect the Cold appointment, and he recalled the appointment of the present fire chief, James M. Brett over Harold A. Sanford in 1955 under a Republican administration.

"I was in favor of Sanford, but

held that "The city would never be in any predicament, if it is run right."

The minority leader said he wanted to spike the rumor and belief that he stepped aside under pressure in his bid for the Republican nomination for mayor.

No 1 point against this belief, he said, was that "Alderman Perry was never offered any money not to run."

No 2 point, he said, was to clarify his position. He reminded that in city caucuses delegates are selected and they nominate. He learned, he said, a week before the choice for mayor was made by Republicans, that John J. Schwenk, the successful

Progressive. The United States, Britain and France are drafting a direct protest to Moscow against East Germany's closing of the border between East and West Berlin to cut off the flight of refugees from communism.

Western diplomats said the protest, following formal complaints made in Berlin Tuesday, will go to the Kremlin in the very near future, on a government-to-government level.

Are Meeting Today

Representatives of the three Western powers and West Germany were to meet at the State Department today to work on the draft and to continue efforts to develop other measures which may be taken because of the refugee blockade.

Progress on development of the countermeasures, reported to include economic sanctions against East Germany, was slower than had been expected when the work started Monday.

JFK, Rusk Confer

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk arranged a breakfast conference at the White House early today and though the purpose was not announced, it was assumed they intended to review the Berlin crisis.

Rusk spent about 35 minutes with Kennedy in the President's living quarters.

Newsmen had no chance to question him as he left.

The Allied diplomatic planning group was to meet with Asst. Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler later in the morning. This same planning committee met late Tuesday with Kohler and West German Ambassador Wilhelm G. Grewe said afterward that "there will be measures" to deal with the situation created by the crackdown on refugees.

The Berlin situation was discussed at length by several top administration policy makers in a two-day foreign policy briefing conference for about 700 radio and newspaper editors which ended at the State Department Tuesday.

'Off Record' Comments

The list of speakers included Rusk and Kennedy, but the President spoke "off the record," and nothing any of the officials said could be attributed to them under the rules of the conference.

From various statements made at the conference, however, it is apparent that U.S. officials regard the flight of thousands of East Germans from Communist rule and the closing of the East-West Berlin border as a black eye for Soviet Communist prestige and propaganda all over the world. The significance of this development is judged to be twofold:

Tuesday night approved application for a federal sum of $102,270 toward a $340,000 project to extend the city's sewage treatment facility, and sanctioned a bid for $94,350 from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for urban renewal surveys and planning.

A bid toward applying for Public Service Commission hearing of proposed crossings of railroad tracks in conjunction with operation of a shopping center off Fair Street Extension was left in committee, and the aldermen approved a zoning change dealing with limitation of certain type multiple dwellings in residential areas.

A five-year, $350,000 project to eliminate storm sewer and drainage problems in the 12th Ward, as proposed by the ward's alderman, John P. Heitzman, was referred to the finance committee and Board of Public Works, by Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye.

Two Year Project

Mayor Edwin F. Radel noted last month that the city now has 60 percent of treated sewage with the other 40 percent going into the Rondout Creek and Hudson River.

Lawrence E. Woerner (D) Fourth Ward asked James K. Ryan (D) 10th Ward, council majority leader, and chairman of a special school committee what appeared to be the cause of delay in acting on the school proposal and Ryan said he was led to understand it was an insufficient sum in the budget for new construction.

Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, reported that a "nasty letter" had been received by him from whom indicating that the aldermen were responsible for delays.

"If they now feel that the budget is inadequate for building a school, I think it should be noted," he said.

Minister Declares Opinion Favors New Drinking Age

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The overwhelming weight of public opinion favors raising the legal drinking age from 18 to 21 in New York State, a Presbyterian minister has told a state legislative hearing on liquor laws.

The Rev. Paul B. Hagen, representing the Olean Ministerial Council, was one of 13 speakers who appeared at a public hearing Tuesday on the issue. Eight favored raising the age and five argued against it.

Dr. Herbert Harrison, pastor of the Asbury-Delaware Methodist Church in Buffalo, said the sale of alcohol to 18-year-olds "interferes with the responsibility of the family in bringing up its children to safe maturity."

But Dr. Herman Goldberg, chairman of the psychology department at Hofstra College, said raising the drinking age would only bring "an additional three years of law violation" and usher in an era of "junior prohibition."

He said the youth's family, more than any law, determines his behavior.

More than 100 spectators attended the hearing.

A spokesman for the Western New York Innkeepers Association proposed a revision that would make a liquor dealer liable to penalty for selling alcohol to minors only if he "willingly" or "knowingly" made the sale. This would clear dealers where false proof of age was used.

The next hearing is scheduled for Aug. 22 in Syracuse.

Scientists Puzzled By New Mysteries About the Universe

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Some monumental new mysteries about the universe are puzzling astronomers gathered here from around the world.

For one thing, they find puzzling evidence that the universe is 20 to 30 million years old, not the young 10 to 11 billions it seemed to be just a couple of years ago.

And they are finding many lopsided and chaotic galaxies or Milky Ways of stars, each composed of hundreds of billions of stars or suns. Our own sun belongs to the Milky Way, which is only one of billions of galaxies.

One galaxy seems to be running away from us at half the speed of light—zipping 93,000 miles farther away every second—yet it is apparently only half as old as the rest of the universe about us.

New riddles like this seems to be popping up all the time, says Dr. Jon H. Oort of Leiden, Holland, president of the International Astronomical Union.

"We can only hope that when we have amassed enough enigmas, the solution may be near," he told about 1,000 colleagues from 33 countries who today began technical discussions on latest research findings in astronomy.

Galaxies are found to occur in a great variety of shapes, and the majority have structures which cannot possibly be in equilibrium or balance, said Dr. Oort.

These galaxies were apparently created "in a past and quite different phase of the universe," and a big problem is to find out what happened then and when.

But so far, he added, "we have hardly been able to decipher any of the hieroglyphs of these galaxies."

Five Defendants Deny Charges in Dutchess Probe

Indicted last Friday by a Supreme Court grand jury on gambling charges, five defendants on Tuesday pleaded innocent before Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz and received adjournment until Sept. 5.

A sixth defendant, James Pollicella, of Beacon, will appear in court Friday for arraignment.

Pleading innocent yesterday were Mrs. Lillianae Jones, 36, of 30 Beekman Street; William Green, 36, of Maple Street; Frank Romano, 52, of 179 Main Street; Frank Tomasi, 67, of 40 Cross Street, all of Beacon, and Tomasi's son, Albert R. Tomasi, 40, of Wappingers Falls.

The arrest of the six defendants resulted from an investigation of alleged gambling activities in Southern Dutchess County directed by District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta, his staff of assistants and Beacon city and state police.

MILLIONAIRES ARE SCARCE

Why not let the millionaires pay most if not all of the taxes? They've got more money than anyone needs, so why not take it away from them for the benefit of the rest of us?

Well, here's why: According to the Internal Revenue Service, there are only 244 taxable incomes of a million dollars or more. And these incomes are taxed to the hilt now, with the top rate being a cool 91 per cent.

Moreover, says the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, the taxes actually paid by the millionaire group are just enough to run the government for 25½ hours—a trifle more than one day. And even if they were taxed 100 per cent, the increase in revenue would merely support the government for another 14½ hours.

There just isn't enough money in the big or even the middle income categories to operate a $90 billion a year government. So the lower income people must pay the bill.

Why is it people who think coffee is keeping them awake get up for another cup or two to help them get to sleep?

THERE WAS A GOOD REASON

The grumbling is naturally loud among corporations, banks, credit unions and other organizations which will be put to a lot of clerical and paper work if, as now seems likely, Congress approves tax withholding on dividends and interest.

A lot of others who are involved as recipients of such income have also been voicing their complaints.

The withholding routine is a headache, no doubt of it. When the practice began on wages and salaries back in 1943, the fuss was tremendous.

There's only one thing to be said about it. We wouldn't need the new withholding setup at all if the people who deprive the government of an estimated $500 million a year in taxes on interest and dividends paid up voluntarily. They deserve the blame.

THIS WE CAN AFFORD

There is always a lot of congressional unhappiness over foreign aid offered in loans and grants. But shipments abroad under our "food for peace" program can warm many a lawmaker's heart.

These can be of immense value to needy nations. At the same time, they slice into our farm surpluses, easing that groaning burden a little, particularly as to storage costs.

Food for peace shipments are rising markedly. Last year just 43,763 tons went into development programs, with nearly 400,000 additional tons going for famine and disaster relief. This year, with months yet to go, development areas already have received 264,000 tons of food out of a total of 727,000 shipped.

That this is, relatively, our most painless foreign aid does not in any way impair its great usefulness.

IT WAS A FUN WAR

The Civil War is deeply engraved on this nation's memory, and it is wholly fitting that this most painful ordeal should be taken note of in centennial observance.

Yet it is one thing to rekindle the remembrance of this event, to revisit old battlefields steeped in history. It is quite another to recreate the war itself, as if in celebration.

Bruce Catton, noted Civil War historian, writes in the current American Heritage that such exhibitions threaten to take on a "strawberry festival" air. "Borrowed costumes, old time music and . . . blank cartridges" could destroy the war's sober meaning for a people still in process of healing the great wounds.

What Catton says makes extremely good sense in this commemorating year.

These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

FRANK BUCHMAN

The death of Frank Buchman removed from the world a prophetic figure who adopted the idea that men can change their personalities by free will. A clergyman, Frank Buchman recognized that young people were not accepting orthodox forms of religion, even if they belonged to formal religious groups. He sought a method of solving personal problems by voluntarily changing one's personality, by personally accepting God's guidance in response to silence and prayer.

His movement started very small and I can recall when some of his followers came to my house in Sandisfield, sat on the grass under ancient maples to talk of life and personality. Frank, as he chose to be called, was then holding his house parties in Stockbridge, a suitable village for such a purpose, for it was in Stockbridge and the neighboring villages that the thought and art of America found its strongest expression during the nineteenth century.

More than 20 years ago I was impressed by the sincerity and profundity of Buchman's followers. What they represented in the current history of ancient religious movements was the enthusiasm of the Essenes, of whom John the Baptist was one, who believed that one could change from wickedness to virtue by baptism, by washing away the sins. So Buchman answered man's willfulness by willing change. Not only was vice replaced by virtue, but futility by usefulness.

The young men and women who serve in Moral Re-Armament do not sit about and pray or sing hymns. They go out into the world to battle against social and political wrongs. Whereas the Salvation Army has battled against personal viciousness, such as drunkenness and poverty, Moral Re-Armament moved toward the barricades where it fought Communism as the evil of our day.

Buchman possessed no quality of bigotry. For him, there were many roads to God and each man had to choose his own. His movement had no priests or leaders; members united into groups of usefulness and spread themselves over the Earth wherever they were most needed. They financed themselves as best they could and no great treasury was developed but those who wanted to help did and those who wanted to give, gave. And the teams went forth to preach the doctrine of peace and human brotherhood.

I knew Frank Buchman well and admired him for his utter selflessness. What he had to give to humanity were his beliefs in the essential goodness and usefulness of man and those who joined him were not abject followers but comrades in arms fighting for the better life.

Buchman was 83 when he died in a West German village. His Movement assembled each year in Switzerland to discuss problems and then went to Mackinac in Michigan for other sessions. The great and the small came and many found in these assemblies the opportunity to open their hearts and expose their souls.

To a Buchmanite, confession is not merely an admission of sin; it is a social acknowledgement that virtue is possible and can be fruitful if one is willing to serve usefully and with sincerity.

No one in Moral Re-Armament was ever told to do no. No one was given orders or instructions. No one was required to obey anyone else. No one bound himself by oath to serve a master. It is a voluntary organization in which one serves by the inspiration of prayer.

Is Moral Re-Armament anarchic? The surprising characteristic of this movement is its orderliness. No one has ever been elected to be a president or a vice president but somehow when a job had needed to be done, men and women fell into place and the team functioned with extraordinary efficiency. Will it continue in this spirit and manner now that Frank Buchman is gone?

The only comparable movement I have ever encountered is the Hasidim among the Jews. They are followers of the Baal-Schem-Tov and believe that God's law is cheerful and comes from the heart and that the essence of faith is love. They recognize the leadership of the rabbi who possesses special gifts but they do not organize tightly and rarely stray from the designated path. For them, the happiness of man is an emanation of the happiness of God and that to enjoy such happiness one must place himself in the path of God's acknowledgement.

Nips for Baby Is Matter Of Personal Discretion

—Sometimes, when taking a mixed drink, my daughter-in-law lets her 18-month-old baby have a few sips. Can't this amount of alcohol have a bad effect on a child so young?

—Although I believe your daughter-in-law is ill-advised to introduce her baby to cocktails at this early age, I cannot in good faith state that this small amount of alcohol will exert any bad effects on the youngster's health.

As a matter of fact, the alcoholic content of most cocktails, especially if diluted with ice, is no higher than that of some approved medicinal fluids such as tonics, cough mixtures, vitamin preparations, blood builders (hematinics) and appetizers.

You will note that my comment applies only to the health of the child.

I am not competent to make a judgment as to the effects on character development and the like, although I would direct attention to the fact that, in days gone by, the crying baby was often given a rag soaked in whisky or brandy for a soothng effect.

I know of no studies that indicated later harmful effects from this practice.

—My wife and I have lost three children as the result of cystic fibrosis. Recently we read of a new drug that cures this terrible disease. As we hope to have more children, I would appreciate information about the drug.

—I believe you are referring to a new and improved extract prepared from pancreatic glands (sweetbreads). It is sold as Cotazym and comes in pill form.

However, neither this nor any other drug has a curative effect in cystic fibrosis. But, with skillful care, using diet and antibiotics, enormous strides are being taken in the control of this complex disorder.

For detailed information, write the director of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases, at the Clinical Center of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Maryland.

You may be interested to know, too, that the Institute is presently considering for admission any adult or child suspected of having cystic fibrosis. The request for admission must be made by your physician in writing or by phone.

The telephone number is OLiver 6-4000 Extension 4891. There are, of course, no charges to the patient for services rendered as a necessary part of participation in an investigational project.

Some time ago, several hundreds of my readers located for me a quotation from the "Vision of Sir Launfal" that I was unable to find. Here's another for my literary friends:

"A cup of cold water given to one of Earth's thirsty ones shall reach beyond the stars and touch the lips of Him who said upon the Cross 'I thirst.'

Does anyone know the source of this one?

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

President's Address Spurs Training*Guardsmen, Reservists in Field Under Regular Battle Conditions

(EDITORS: In these days of concern about the Berlin tug of war, the National Guard and Army reservists who come to the sprawling Camp Drum for training know that this is no time for a lackadaisical attitude. This AP Membership Enterprise project tells what the trainees are doing)

RONALD D. WILEY
WATERTOWN DAILY TIMES

CAMP DRUM, N. Y. (AP)—The men who come to Camp Drum in these days of Berlin crisis learn how to fight a war. They know they aren't there only to shoot rifles and learn to march in closed ranks for parades.

There was no swift alteration or acceleration of training programs following President Kennedy's call for a military buildup to meet possible Communist aggression.

Ernest About It

But the President's address of July 25 precipitated a definite change in the atmosphere at this northern New York post.

The possibility of a call-up of reserves brought with it a feeling that this might be the real thing soon, said Lt. Col. Felix W. Salmaggi, the information officer.

It is obvious that each division and regimental commander, battalion, company or platoon leader is interested in gleaned every ounce of preparation from the two-week training cycle.

And it is obvious, too, that the soldiers are more attentive, less lackadaisical. The problems are attacked more strenuously and urgently.

Scuttlebut that this or that unit may be on active duty next month or next year brings home the need for good basic training and battle-readiness.

What happens to Pvt. Joe Smith when he arrives at this post with thousands of fellow guardsmen and reservists?

Emphasis on Field Training

The answer is preparation, and the emphasis this year is on field training, Salmaggi said. Many units move directly through the cantonment area into field training or bivouac zones upon arrival.

They live in tents, generally sleeping on the ground. They spend their active duty time working on organic equipment—the equipment authorized for a particular type of unit.

Often the plan for eventual preparedness involves defense against attack by aggressors. Night skirmishes are frequent. Reservists from many walks of life thread through dense underbrush, crawl over sand and wade through streams, moving against defender forces.

Field hospitals are set up, capable of handling many battle casualties and actually treating cuts and bruises that accompany maneuvers.

Planned High Up

Engineering battalions throw bridges across the meandering Black River to penetrate enemy positions. They build communications or field command headquarters, using local materials.

Most training is planned by higher authority, such as the First Army or the 13th or Second Corps. The post's function is to provide facilities, services and maintenance for the trainees.

Col. Joseph A. Remus, post commander, said the Camp Drum experience "is the culmination of the training program at the many training centers" in building toward combat readiness.

The men go through maneuvers they learned on paper during the past week.

Court Upholds Eastman Reply To 1954 Decree

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Eastman Kodak Co. of Rochester has complied fully with a 1954 federal court decree ordering the company to help potential competitors enter the field of color film processing, a federal judge has ruled.

The degree was issued after the Justice Department accused the company of holding a virtual monopoly in color-film processing.

Judge John O. Henderson noted Tuesday that the company now handles only 28 per cent of domestic color processing for amateur photographers. He relieved Eastman of any obligation to reduce its color-film processing facilities.

The company maintains nine color processing plants, compared with nearly 400 laboratories operated by competitors, the court said.

Gets His Mouth Around Faucet, Hacksaw Needed

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Virginia Coons was still trying to determine today how her son Michael Edward, 5, got that big bathtub faucet stuck in his mouth.

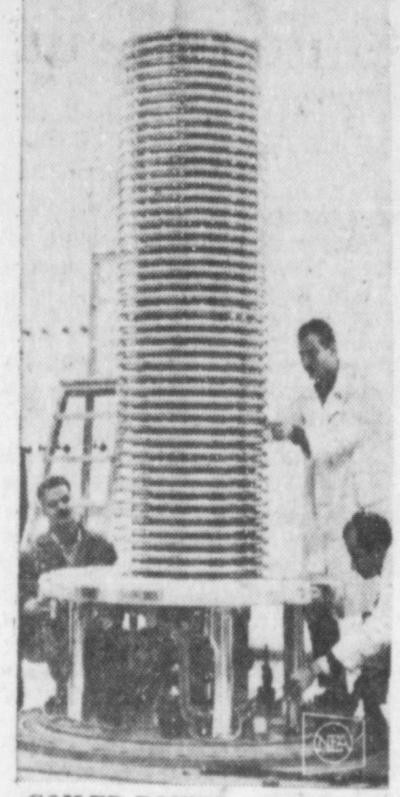

Its removal necessitated the use of police, firemen and a doctor. It also caused her to go into shock.

"I just don't know how he did it," she said. "I saw him put his mouth around it once and told him not to do it again."

"I turned around for a moment and when I turned back around there it was."

She couldn't get it out, and neither could police. Firemen arrived and cut it off the tube with a hacksaw.

Faucet in mouth, Mike was taken to St. John's Hospital where a doctor had better luck.

Want More Than Words Is Brandt Note to Kennedy

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin announced today he has sent a letter to President Kennedy telling him "Berlin expects more than words, it expects political action."

Brandt told a cheering rally of 200,000 West Berliners about the letter.

"I said what we think in all frankness," he said.

Brandt said he wanted "high Western representatives to come to Berlin to see the situation for themselves, but did not name them.

To cheers and thunderous applause, Brandt declared that by sealing off the border in divided Berlin, the Communists were using the old capital as a lever to split the Allies.

"If the Communists are not stopped at the Brandenburg Gate they will not be stopped at the Rhine," he declared, referring to the famous gate standing as a marker between East and West Berlin.

The mood of West Berliners, impatient over Western Allied inaction, was reflected by Deputy Mayor Franz Amrehn, who told the crowd:

"Protests are not enough."

The crowd collected in front of Schoeneberg Borough Hall, headquarters of the West Berlin city government.

The rally was called by Brandt with the support of trade unions.

The protests made by the Western commandants "was good but we cannot just leave it at that," Brandt declared to stormy applause.

5 Persons Hurt In 4 Accidents

Five persons were injured in four minor city traffic mishaps Tuesday.

Robert Lewis, 7, of 132 Hasbrouck Avenue, suffered a laceration over the left eye, and Tarris Lewis Jr., 11, a contusion of the left eye, in a mishap on North Front Street near entrance to Dietz Stadium at 6 p.m.

Police said they were in a car driven by Tarris F. Lewis, 34, of 132 Hasbrouck Avenue, which had struck a guard post. The children were treated at Kingston Hospital. Officer Thomas Coffey investigated.

Alvie C. Kidd, 43, of Rifton, reported a slight bump on the head after a two-car mishap at Wilbur Avenue and South Wall Street at 4:20 p.m. Police said he drove the one car, and the other was operated by Robert Gajewski, of Glenford.

James E. McEwen, 25, of 196 Salem Street, Port Ewen, reported a cut left knee after a two-car mishap on Wurts Street. He was treated at Kingston Hospital. McEwen drove the one car and the other was operated by Joan Petramale, of 47 Wurts Street. Officers Francis Buchanan and Sheldon O'Rourke investigated.

Richard J. Fuoco, of 43 Lawrence Street, suffered a slight head injury in another mishap on Broadway near the underpass at 2:15 p.m. Anthony J. Erena, 52, of 72 Cedar Street, police said, drove the one car and Anita Fuoco, 26, of 43 Lawrence Street, the other. Officers Louis Sapp and Lewis Keator investigated.

Some 6,250 officers and men at about 800 installations took part in the exercise. It was devised to represent the problems which would be involved in an attack by 549 intercontinental missiles and submarine launched projectiles, plus 420 bombers.

But the entire operation was merely for the testing of electronic equipment and the men in charge of it. No actual planes or missiles were involved.

Air of Unreality Hovers Over Berlin

Pulitzer Winner Gives Views Of A Split City

EDITOR'S NOTE —Lynn Heinerling first went to Berlin in 1939 to report the first stages of World War II. He has spent the last 20 years in various parts of the world, and this year won the Pulitzer Prize for his reporting from Africa. Now he is back in Berlin—a far different Berlin. This is his story of the way the split city looks today.

By LYNN HEINZERLING

BERLIN (AP)—The police and troops of Communist East Berlin went about their somber task of mutilating this great city under a matching sky today.

Dark, forbidding clouds lay over the city. Communist tanks and armored cars lurked behind an arbitrary dividing line.

The people's army, the people's police, the factory militia and the railway police barred some 80,000 East Berliners from their jobs across the line.

Concrete Barrier

On Friedrichstrasse, one of the city's great business arteries, the Communists have put down what looks like a permanent barrier. Great slabs of concrete are laid across the street in five knee-high barriers. Motorists must zigzag through the small openings as in an obstacle race to cross the line. Nobody in a hurry would make it.

There is an air of unreality about this business of trying to quarantine a major portion of a huge, modern city. It is difficult to believe it is happening. But there is the barbed wire on front of the stately Brandenburg Gate to prove it.

The Communist police and troops were huddled under the gate to escape the rain. On the Western side, a West German television crew had a camera with a two-foot lens focused on the gate and the modest military activity beyond.

Open to Some

Foreigners and West Germans will still enter East Berlin today. The secret policeman on Friedrichstrasse took one look at U.S. passports and politely waved reporters into the Communist section of the city.

Some of the people's police were less polite. One waved down the car just behind the Brandenburg Gate.

"Where do you think you're going?" he inquired angrily with the familiar worldwide expression. A voice said the small party of newsmen wanted only to view the ruins of Adolf Hitler's old office down the street.

"You can drive anywhere except where it says 'no through traffic!'" the policeman shouted. In East Berlin it seems that wherever there is a "no through traffic" sign, a collection of tanks or armored cars is nearby. There was one on the Wilhelmstrasse.

A Wave Near Tanks

The Linden trees still grace Unter den Linden, the old imperial and Nazi show street. But, behind them are ruins or mostly gray, lachuster buildings—with the outstanding exception of the immense Soviet Embassy.

The State Opera, where Hitler shouted, still stands. A small group of Communist militia sheltered under the portico today.

Great banners meet the eye in East Berlin: "Not a powder keg, but a demilitarized free city of Berlin." One of them waved in the wind near Alexanderplatz not far from a wicked looking lineup of tanks.

Most of the armor and military activity appears concentrated behind the dividing line through the center of the city. Deep in the northern precincts of Berlin, there was little activity of any kind.

Power Goes Off

Along the Stalinallee, designed by the Communists as a show street to replace Unter den Linden, there were very few troops and no guns. Some of the tiles facing on the fancy new buildings on Stalinallee is beginning to peel off.

In the course of the morning, power went off in East Berlin. Street cars were lined up in Alexanderplatz and stranded throughout the northern part of the city. The electrified trains were stopped.

At the Friedrichstrasse station, main transfer point for travelers between East and West Germany, everything came to a standstill. A railway employee at the door was explaining it to a newsman when a railway policeman came up, importantly. "You're not supposed to say that!" he shouted at the railwayman.

"I was just explaining why," the railwayman said.

"You're not supposed to explain anything," said the policeman.

Getting Used to It

The electricity came back after an hour.

A popular morning newspaper in West Berlin came out this morning with the headline: "The West does nothing."

But not all West Berliners expect the West to go too far in the present situation. One, who has lived through both wars and 16 years of a divided Berlin, said he did not expect the Western powers to risk a war over the artificial barriers separating the city's two parts.

"We're even getting used to it," he said.

Hijacked Jet Due In Miami Today, Cuba Gets Boat

HAVANA (AP)—A $2.5-million Eastern Air Lines passenger plane swapped for a $50,000 Cuban patrol boat in the aftermath of a hijacking may return to Miami, Fla., today.

A 10-man airline crew arrived in Havana Tuesday to fly back the Lockheed Electra hijacked to Cuba last July 24 with 38 persons aboard.

The patrol boat, seized by Cuban refugees four days after the plane was hijacked, left Key West, Fla., for Cuba under a plane-for-boat deal.

Three Cuban sailors manned the 33-foot craft. The Coast Guard escorted the vessel to America's three-mile limit and returned several guns that were aboard the boat when it reached Key West.

A Miami lawyer tried unsuccessfully to attach the boat to Terry Kane, an American whose Cuban tractor business Fidel Castro's government seized. A Florida court awarded Kane a judgment of $833,258 against the Castro regime.

Stratton Charges Plan of Rocky's Would Erase Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., told President Kennedy today that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would erase the Democrats' hard core majority in the House with his plan to reapportion New York's congressional districts.

Stratton, after calling on Kennedy at the White House, said the President appeared anxious that the support he has been getting in the House be maintained.

The congressman said he also told Kennedy that Rockefeller is "by no means a lead-pipe cinch for re-election that many columnists and commentators down here seem to believe."

As for his own plans, Stratton said he would probably decide late this year whether to seek the Democratic nomination to oppose Rockefeller in next year's New York elections.

Stratton has been mentioned as a possible challenger and has traveled considerably about the state in the last few months. His seat in Congress also might be threatened by a reapportionment devised in New York's Republican-dominated Legislature.

As a result of the 1960 census, New York will lose 2 of its 43 seats in the House. This would require a reshuffling of district boundaries — unless all candidates for the House are to run in statewide contests.

Stratton said he expressed concern to Kennedy that Rockefeller was trying to push through a reapportionment plan that would destroy the Democrats' firm margin in the House because it could result in the net loss of 12 Democratic seats in the New York delegation.

Stratton also said he urged Kennedy to approve a recommendation of the Tariff Commission that the work be done by budget provision, bonds, or "any other feasible means" with the city bearing the cost.

The multiple dwelling zoning amendment as proposed recently by Heitzman prohibits such structures as apartments, hotels, boarding houses and similar buildings from locating in residential areas.

"Before the board of education can proceed with plans it will also be necessary for the Kingston Planning Board to approve the location as a site for the school.

Awaiting Two Actions

The board awaits the action of the common council and the planning board before it authorizes the architects to draft preliminary plans.

"The board of education has always favored a school in Hasbrouck Park for the downtown children and will finance the construction of the school as required.

Hyde Park Unit Of First Federal Opens Thursday

At the new Hyde Park Shopping Plaza at 9 a. m. Thursday morning, Supervisor Schriber of the town of Hyde Park will cut the ribbon opening the Hyde Park Branch of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Kingston.

Participating in the ceremony will be John B. Sterley, president of First Federal, Dewees W. DeWitt, executive vice president, and Alexander J. McKittirick, assistant secretary and manager of the new Hyde Park Office. J. Allan Wood and Henry Halverson, directors of First Federal, also will be present.

Harry Halverson, A. I. A. planned and supervised the layout of the new office which features a 30 foot scenic mural. The officers of First Federal believe they have the most beautiful small banking office in the entire Hudson Valley. The office staff, in addition to McKittirick, will consist of Mrs. Clarice Talbot and Miss Donna Haug, both of whom have been residents of Hyde Park for a number of years. They have been in training at the main office in Kingston for the past month.

Opening simultaneously with First Federal, in the new shopping plaza, will be the stores of W. T. Grant and Memorial Cleaners. The A & P Store and the Newsstat Drug Store, also in the plaza, will have a re-opening celebration. Parking facilities for 600 cars are provided.

The purpose of this new office of First Federal is to make available to the residents of Northern Dutchess the facilities of a Savings and Loan Association. In addition to providing the various type of savings accounts and mortgages that First Federal has available in Kingston, customers may purchase money orders, American Express Traveler's checks and foreign drafts. Christmas and vacation clubs will be available, as well as passbooks, loans, savings bonds cashed, and property improvement loans. The same friendly service, maintained in First Federal's Kingston offices, will be a feature in the new Hyde Park Branch.

Hyde Park was chosen for the site of the new office because of its phenomenal growth during the past decade. The present population is somewhat over 12,000 which is 106% over the figure of 10 years ago. With the opening of the new arterial route through Poughkeepsie it is expected that many of the persons now employed south of the city will prefer to live in Hyde Park thus increasing its potential growth.

During the opening celebration on Thursday and Friday there will be free gifts for all and a special gift will be given to those opening a new account of $50 or more. All accounts are insured to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Attending the opening from out of town will be Louis J. Rub, vice president and James S. Bonnell, assistant vice president of the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York, and David Ford, president of the Savings Association League of New York State.

Special Sessions Slated Monday on N.Y. Schools

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—State legislators will miss a day at the races here because of a special session Monday on the New York City school situation.

Gov. Rockefeller's office informed the Upstate city last night that the third annual Legislators' day at Saratoga Race Track had to be cancelled. The solons' day at the track also was scheduled for Monday.

OUT OF WATER: This expression came into use from the fact that the herring cannot live for very long out of water. Fishermen very seldom see a herring alive because it dies a few minutes after it is caught.

Indignation May Erupt at Big Brandt Rally Today

West Berliners Oppose Allies' Position in Communist Squeeze

BERLIN (AP) — Indignation swept harried West Berlin today at word that the Allies oppose drastic action against Communist closure of the divided city's border.

Reports of Western reluctance to counter the tightening East German restrictions came in the wake of a Red threat to repeat the 1948-49 Berlin blockade if Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government cuts off trade with the East.

200,000 Expected

West Berlin officials predicted that outbursts against the cautious Allied stand might erupt at a giant rally Mayor Willy Brandt called this afternoon to protest the Communist squeeze. At least 200,000 were expected to turn out.

West Berliners were already voicing their indignation over the Western position.

"They're selling us down the river," said one.

May Act on Own

Many West Berliners looked for Adenauer's government to act on its own against the Communists if the United States, Britain and France would not go along.

The chancellor two days ago spoke in favor of a complete Western trade break with the Soviet bloc. The Bonn government has said it would act only in accord with its Allies, but with national elections only a month away, Adenauer undoubtedly is under pressure at home to take concrete measures against the Communists. East German regime's ban on East Germans traveling into West Berlin.

Parliament Meets Friday

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe said in Washington Tuesday night that measures more than theoretical would be taken against the new Red barrier. The Bonn government announced the lower house of the German Parliament would meet Friday to take its own countermeasures.

The U.S., British and French governments were at work on notes to the Soviet government protesting the restrictions on German movement in Berlin. But U.S. officials in Washington said privately that no strong countermeasures could be taken because the Red barricade applied only to Communist territory. They pointed out that the Communists in effect were only doing to East Germany what they did years ago to the rest of the Soviet bloc and that Western access to West Berlin, by both West Germans and others, so far had not been impaired.

West Maps . . .

ting across to the leaders and peoples of the newly independent countries in Africa and Asia the contention that communism has been a failure in East Germany and that it is not the "wave of the future."

At the same time, the whole affair of the refugees may dangerously complicate the problem of trying to negotiate with Soviet Premier Khrushchev a peaceful solution for the broader Berlin crisis in which the refugee problem stands as a single dramatic incident.

Khrushchev's aim in trying to get the Western powers out of West Berlin and give that city a new status is believed here to be the stabilization of the Communist position in East Germany and generally in Eastern Europe.

Cold War In Brief

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BERLIN — West Berliners indignation at word that Allies oppose drastic action against Communist closure of city border, Reds jubilant; Brandt calls protest rally against Reds this afternoon; Communists threaten to renew Berlin blockade if West Germany cuts off trade with the East.

HAMBURG — West Germany's largest newspaper criticizes Allies' inaction.

BONN — West German Bundestag called into special session Friday to take own countermeasures against new Berlin restrictions.

WASHINGTON — United States, Britain, France draft protest notes to Moscow against Berlin border closure but don't plan trade break or other strong countermeasures yet; Allies take view East Berlin only getting treatment rest of satellites got years ago, they can't act because Western rights in West Berlin not affected; West German ambassador says measures other than "theoretical" will be taken; Sen. Russell says United States could start airlift within 24 hours of blockade but he doesn't believe blockade will come.

More 'Berlins'

the mainland. They haven't tried to attack Formosa itself for a simple, good reason: The United States has the nuclear muscle and they don't.

This will change when they get the muscle. Then will the United States for the sake of Formosa risk a nuclear war with Red China which would almost certainly mean war with the Soviet Union.

Chance of Losing Faith

If not, then the other American Allies in Asia may lose faith in this country. At the same time some of those same Allies, plus the European Allies, may prefer seeing Formosa lost to risking nuclear war for themselves.

This is just one of the dilemmas ahead. Even without threats from Red China, Formosa may be thrown into internal crisis when Chiang dies. And places not even thought of now will become critical areas in the struggle with communism.

Africa, for instance. Or countries in Latin America where communism, through Fidel Castro, has an ideological launching pad in Cuba.

Then there's Korea. The Communists were stopped once from taking it by force. But it lies next to Red China and Red North Korea.

Gloomy Picture

The Communist effort to take it over, by force or subversion, will not end.

Another place: South Viet Nam which the United States is committed to protect but where the Communists from North Viet Nam have already infiltrated. That country is wobbly already.

If that goes, all Southeast Asia is in jeopardy. And the places mentioned here are just the obvious trouble spots ahead. There'll be others.

Does the picture look gloomy for those who dreamed of happy days? It sure does.

en-year terms and receive no pay.

The mayor can bring charges against individual members and call them for a hearing, but can remove them immediately only with their consent.

Adams, head of the board's legal committee, said that, under state law requiring a 30-day notice of appointment to the board, the present board would continue in office during that waiting period even if it resigns.

Adams' Rockefellers special session call as a "political hatchet job" and said the board had no intention of submitting quietly to removal by the state.

Guevara Ignored For Red Voice

FUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Cuban economic czar Ernesto Guevara tried to open the door today to Communist advisers for President Kennedy's $2 billion Alliance for Progress, but ran into a stone wall.

Delegates from the other 20 American nations at the Inter-American Economic Conference brushed aside Guevara's proposals and in committee unanimously approved a 1,000-word "Declaration to the Peoples of America" summing up the new program of economic aid and self-help for Latin America. Cuba abstained.

To Be Signed Thursday

The declaration is an abridgement of the 3,000-word Charter of Punta del Este which sets forth the principles of the program in detail. The shorter declaration was drawn up with the idea that it could be more easily understood by Latin America's masses.

After approval at a conference plenary session today, both will be signed Thursday when the conference closes one day behind schedule.

There was speculation whether Guevara would sign for Cuba. But other Latin American delegates said even if he did, the U.S.-controlled agencies that will handle the bulk of the financing won't advance any funds to Cuba.

Guevara said his country cannot fully support the program until it gets a "clear and concise answer" from the United States whether Cuba is in or out of the alliance family. U.S. delegates steadfastly refused to commit themselves.

In the late night committee session that finally whipped the declaration into shape, Guevara made his pitch for Red technicians with an amendment saying that "experts" could assist Latin American republics in their development schemes. This was interpreted as an attempt to give Soviet bloc a foothold in countries that will receive U.S. aid under the program.

Says Reports Stolen

A U.S. spokesman announced that two reports from the U.S. Embassy in Caracas, produced by Guevara earlier in the conference as evidence of U.S. interference in Latin America, were stolen from the automobile of U.S. Ambassador Teodoro Moscoso when a leftist mob burned it in Caracas in June.

One of the documents, prepared by the labor attache at the Caracas embassy, criticized certain administrative procedures and tax systems of the Venezuelan government. The other, reviewing Latin American feeling on Cuba after the abortive April invasion, said the United States probably could not persuade a majority of the Latin American states to join in a quarantine of Cuba and that even if it did Mexico and Brazil would refuse to cooperate.

Moscoso at the time of the attack on his car was attending an art exhibit at Caracas University. The spokesman could not explain why the brief case was left in the car or what precautions had been taken to guard it.

Spoils for the Victor

Rivera, 11, told police he had seen them shortly after 4 p.m. and that they told him they were going to a shop nearby to get parts for a bicycle they were repairing.

Amato Morro, 40, stumbled onto the bodies about 6 p.m. as he scavenged for junk. Jaime's body lay under a tree, gagged with a pair of socks. Augustin's nude body was in the weeds, his hands bound with suspenders and his mouth gagged by a necktie.

The bodies were several hundred feet to the rear of a parking lot behind a bowling alley on Flatbush Avenue in the Canarsie section of Brooklyn. A creek bisects the marshy wasteland.

Chief Inspector Raymond V. Martin said an attempt would be made to determine whether there was any connection between this crime and the unsolved killing last June of Jose Vasquez, 9, in Manhattan. The youth's nude body was found on a roof across from his home. It had been gagged.

The grief-stricken parents identified the bodies at Kings County morgue Tuesday night as Jaime Ruiz, 9, and Augustin Trinidad Jr., 13.

Jaima's stepfather, William Ruiz, said the last time he had seen the youth was about 4 p.m. when Jaime left home, saying he was going to meet Augustin.

Simple But Old Items Are Scarce At Movie Studios

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the hills of Hollywood some well-heeled residents collect French provincial furniture and, if they can afford them, French impressionist paintings.

But at the motion picture and television studios, precious collectors' items include such hard-to-find objects as ice boxes with drip pans beneath, hand-wound alarm clocks with bells on top, and color reproductions of Maxfield Parrish paintings in gold frames.

One reason is the American Broadcasting Co. preoccupation with the 1920s. This dates from "The Untouchables" two seasons back. "The Roaring '20s" followed last season, and next October a family comedy series, "Margie," will continue the trend.

Property masters and set dressers of Desilu, Warner Bros. and 20th Century-Fox studios, where the three series are being shot, browl the big warehouses where are stored the ghostly, sheet-shrouded remains of old motion pictures. Many of "The Roaring '20s" props—fringed lamp shades, console phonographs and cat-whisker radio sets—were once used for "Little Caesar."

Action-packed "The Roaring '20s" often displays authentic 1920 guns, big-nosed flashlights, court plaster instead of adhesive tape and big hypodermics. The "Margie"

They can't find them anywhere. Producer Hal Goodman wishes that anyone who kept a circa-1920 slicker in an attic trunk would ship it to Fox. They can't pay for unsuitable ones, and they can't return any. If you have one, please don't send to me; I've got all the extra work I need forwarding letters from readers who want jobs as animated cartoonists.

Elect John Melia President Of Township Taxpayer Group

John Melia of Lake Hill was elected president of the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association at the annual meeting held in the Lake Hill fire house.

Melia, long active in taxpayers' activities, succeeds Lawrence G. Casey, who was named vice president in a switch of the posts. Other officers are: Mrs. Sonia Rice, re-elected secretary; and Mrs. John Melia, treasurer.

Named to the Board of Directors were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freitag, Robert Owens, Virginia Owens, James McVitty, Agnes Lyall, Nancy Hetzel. Melia is a member of Fire Co. No. 3 and the Lake Hill Sportsmen's Club.

In his annual report, President Casey said the taxpayers group had had the finest year in its four-year history, with membership doubled and a new chapter established in Woodstock.

One of the major accomplishments of the Willow-Lake Hill-Shady group, said Casey, was knocking the request for a Graduate out of the 1961 town budget, reducing the budget by some $30,000. "This item was totally unnecessary and never justified by the road superintendent," said Casey. He also pointed out that the association had representation at all town board meetings and had created a contracts committee to promote bidding for various town contracts.

In taking over the gavel, Melia congratulated Casey and his administration for an excellent job and pledged to continue the good work.

The association formally ratified the change in name from Willow-Lake Hill-Shady Taxpayers Association to Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association. The president was instructed to contact Attorney Schick to take the necessary steps to change the name.

Freitag Reports

Fred Freitag, chairman of the annual dinner committee, reported an excellent response and said reservations indicate the largest function to date. He announced that attorney John Schick of Kingston, the association's attorney, would be a guest along with Miss Ann Whitford of figures of the art world of the twentieth century.

While in Paris in the early 1930's Anna Neagoe was twice specially invited by the Brooklyn Museum to exhibit twenty of her paintings in its annual Summer Show. The New York Times at the time featured a reproduction of one of these paintings along with those of Picasso and Chardin, in a discussion of their three dissimilar styles.

Back in the Twenties, Anna Neagoe encouraged her husband, a painter at the time, to give his full time to writing. Peter Neagoe became recognized as the great Rumanian writer of this century, noted for his fine novels and short stories of Balkan peasant life.

Christian Science Sermon Theme: 'Mind'

Brotherhood will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind."

Paul's exhortation to the Corinthians (3) will be included in the Scriptural readings:

"Let not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds; And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him: Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free; but Christ is all, and is all."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "With one Father, even God, the whole family of man would be brethren; and with one Mind and that God, or good, the brotherhood of man would consist of Love and Truth,

Following the Sunday service, Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Wood will give a brief organ and vocal recital, using the new instrument.

On Sunday, August 20, at 3 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Wood will be heard in a program of organ and sacred vocal music for parishioners and friends of St. Gregory's. Failure to Fill PB Vacancy Is Scored at Board Meeting

Failure of the town board to fill a vacancy on the Planning Board was scored by Councilman Tobie Geertsema at Tuesday night's town board meeting in Woodstock. A retrospective show of paintings by Anna Neagoe, internationally noted Woodstock artist, will begin with an opening reception from 3 to 6 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 19 and run through Sept. 6.

The exhibition will include some 100 paintings selected out of several hundred representing a 40-year period of creative activity both in this country and abroad. The collection will trace the artist's development and advancement along with the art movements of the times, from her early romantic realism to the various forms of modernism. Her many one-man shows on two continents received consistent critical praise throughout a career marked by close personal and artistic associations with many of the great unanimous recommendation to Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux several months ago, but that he had been sitting on the recommendation.

Although Mrs. Geertsema did not reveal the name of the person recommended, it is known that he is an enrolled Democrat who lives in Bearsville.

The vacancy on the board was created by the sudden resignation of Lewis R. Wilson because of conflict of interest.

Under persistent prodding by Mrs. Geertsema, the Republican supervisor acknowledged the recommendation of the Planning Board and indicated that a meeting to discuss the PB recommendation "soon." He also pointed out that the town board was interested in hearing from other candidates from the outlying districts. He said there had been criticism of the board in the hamlets that they did not have representation on the board.

Asked from the floor if a single recommendation by the Planning Board was ordinarily sufficient, the supervisor replied: "I guess so."

Other Candidates

In amplifying her remarks on the town board floor, Councilman Geertsema said it was her opinion that Supervisor Molyneaux was extremely reluctant to appoint the person recommended by the Planning Board. In defense of the PB, however, she said:

"I doubt whether they will back down from a unanimous recommendation."

The Democratic councilman said the Planning Board's recommendation of the Bearsville Democrat came after a long and exhaustive search for candidates in the "upper district." She said that several persons had been approached but refused to accept appointment.

It is known that a prominent Lake Hill resident had indicated to Benjamin L. Webster, a member of the PB, his willingness to serve. It could not be established if the application was ever given any consideration either by the Planning Board or the supervisor.

the junior students of Agnes Hart will be displayed for the pleasure of parents and the general public.

4-H Dress Review Scheduled Tonight At Fair Bandstand

The Ulster County 4-H Club will present their annual fashion review at the Ulster County Fair tonight, 7 o'clock at the bandstand at Forsyth Park.

Modeling in the review will be 55 girls, displaying the garments which they have constructed in clothing projects during the 1960-61 4-H Club year. Each girl entered in the fashion review must have entered her garment for judging, and modeled it at one of the five reviews held in the county during the spring.

Commentating for the review will be Miss Lou Rice, assistant 4-H Club agent and Miss Janet Walker, 4-H summer assistant.

The garments to be displayed feature a varied array of fabrics, colors and designs. The younger members and beginners have chosen aprons, gathered skirts and raglan sleeve blouses, while more advanced seamstresses have constructed garments in wool, blends and many of the new synthetic fabrics.

Some of these will feature tailored suits, coats and dresses, sports and play clothes, coordinate outfits, sport, tailored and party type dresses along with some formal type gowns of chiffon and taffeta.

The event will give the public a more complete picture of "what 4-H is and does", in Ulster County.

FRIENDSHIP HAS COOLED

Q: We are planning a reception for our son who is to be confirmed soon and we are confronted with a problem. About a year ago, my husband, my son and I were invited to two different receptions for two of our neighbors' sons who were confirmed. At that time our son and these two boys were very good friends. However, soon afterwards they had an argument and the relationship between these two boys and my son now consists of nothing more than a nod when they meet. Our son has made many new friends whom he would like to invite to this reception. Since we are limited as to the number of people we can invite we would like to know if, under the circumstances, it is necessary to invite our neighbors' sons. We, the parents, are good friends and we will of

We The Women

Time, O Time, Shorten Thy Flight

The American housewife's greatest problem isn't money or children — it's time.

According to a recent survey made by Iowa State University, 60 per cent of the nation's housewives listed "time" as their No. 1 problem.

It's no wonder housewives find themselves short of time. Nobody respects the time of the woman whose major job is keeping house.

Her day is broken into by dozens of useless interruptions and demands upon her time.

The telephone rings, and she unplugs the iron to run answer it, only to find that someone is informing her that she has just "won" a free dancing lesson or a "free" photograph or, if she can come up with the correct answer to "Who is the president of the United States?" she will get some "other" equally magnificent break.

The doorbell rings, and she finds herself with a determined, long-winded salesman to get rid of before the potatoes on the stove start burning.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Early American Coolers Popular

HERBED tomato cooler is a sample of how great-great-grandma cooled overheated thirsts in the good old days.

GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. When the United States was young, housewives liked to serve coolers made of fruits from the kitchen garden. These two recipes, taken from early 19th century cookbooks, have hot weather appeal today.

Herbed Tomato Cooler

(Yield: 7 cups)
2 quarts (3½ pounds) diced fresh tomatoes
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1½ teaspoons basil leaves
2 whole cloves
2½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¾ cup water
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice

Combine tomatoes, onion, basil and cloves. Cover and cook slowly 10 minutes or until soft. Put through a sieve or food mill. Stir in salt and sugar, water and lemon juice. Cool. Serve chilled over crushed ice or ice cubes.

Spiced Appleade

(Yield: 6 servings)
4½ cups (1 pound) peelings and cores from tart apples
1 quart cold water
1 stick whole cinnamon
½ teaspoon whole allspice
2 lemon rinds
½ cup sugar

½ cup fresh lemon juice
1 cup fresh orange juice
Slices fresh lemon, whole cloves for garnish

Cook first 4 ingredients together in a covered saucepan for 30 minutes. Remove from heat. Strain. Add lemon rinds and let stand 5 minutes. Remove rinds. Stir in sugar. Add lemon and orange juice just before serving. Float slices lemon, studded with cloves, over each cup over ice cubes.

Check Troubles

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Forged checks apparently are easier to cash than those backed by Uncle Sam. A deputy U. S. marshal tells this story: "A girl forged numerous checks and cashed them successfully. She was caught, put on probation in the custody of her parents. She was given a ticket to California and a $40 check for food and incidentals on the train. I accompanied her to the station and on the way she asked to stop in a supermarket and get the check cashed. They wouldn't cash the government check until I established my identification and hers and verified the check's authenticity."

Change Theme

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The South Carolina delegation to the national Democratic convention chose "Carolina in the Morning" for its convention song. A spokesman explained that the Tin Pan Alley tune is "little bouncier and more familiar than the official state song, "Carolina," adopted in 1911.

A man walked into a barber shop and asked for a shave. One of the barbers, a man of very little experience, said to the boss, "New Barber—Let me shave him. I need the practice."

Boss—Okay, go ahead. But don't cut yourself.

Hear about the beatnik girl getting married? Instead of getting a shower, she's taking one.

Hey, you! Pull over! Shouted the traffic cop.

The lady driver complied, and the next day the judge fined her $25. She went home in great anxiety lest her husband who always examined her checkbook should learn of the incident. Then inspiration struck, and she marked the check stub, "One pull-over," $25.

Boss to Stenographer—Congratulations, Miss Hopkins, this is the earliest you've been late.

Northern Visitor (in Georgia)—I see you raise hogs almost exclusively about here. Do you find that they pay better than corn and potatoes?

Native (slowly)—Wal, no, but see, stranger, haws don't need no hoeing.

Alimony—Severance pay.

A young lawyer was attending a funeral. A friend arrived at the service a little late, seated himself by the lawyer and whispered: At what stage of the services are they?

Focus on Health

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The last illness, the human confusion of racing the sun, and operating on hearts packed in ice are subjects with a focus on health.

DEATH IN OLD AGE

What of the last weeks and days of life?

British researchers have made a study of death as it came to 2,000 ailing old people, aged 60 to 160, in a hospital.

At least a quarter of the patients were aware they were dying. And most of them met this awareness without fear or misgiving, even with calmness. In seven of the patients the premonition of death came within a few hours of the fact.

Only 13 per cent of the patients complained of moderate to severe pain during this last illness. Oddly the pain was more prevalent with diseases like rheumatoid arthritis than in other ailments including cancer. Less than a quarter of those with cancer suffered moderate to severe pain.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The jet airplane and its rapid transit across the oceans and continents have added an element of confusion to the traveler's adjustment problems.

Picture this: You leave Paris at noon and arrive in New York at 5 p.m. local time. You've been in the air seven hours. But jet speed racing the sun has saved you four. Now if you work an eight-hour day, you are working a 12-hour day. Even dinner will be late, four hours late.

Air Force researchers point out that some 70 per cent of jet travelers are so sensitive to such shifts in phase that they may develop some disorder or other trying to adjust.

Two obvious solutions: Adopt the living and time patterns of your destination before you leave. Or arrive early enough so you will have time to adjust.

COLD HEART

Doctors are now actually packing the heart in ice for some prolonged heart operations.

Bottles of saline ice crystals—a sort of salt water slush—are prepared before the operation and the crystals are packed around the heart as they are needed, arresting the heart's action while the surgeon works.

British researchers tested the method reported last year in the United States. It was useful in cases where the heart muscle has to be arrested for longer than 15 minutes.

The heart is warmed and starts normal action when resupplied by warm blood promptly after the operation without signs of impairment.

Shokan

SHOKAN—Mrs. William J. Loos, Inwood, L. I., is spending two weeks with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kelly and daughters, Cathy and Rosemary, at the Kelly summer home near the old state road.

Mrs. Edward Abrahamson and son Leo, Cresskill, N. J., and Mrs. Abrahamson's mother, Margaret Giroix, Kingston, were callers at the local free museum last Sunday.

Ruben Nason, Dennis Lane, Bethpage, L. I., was in town recently.

Mrs. Leonard Ruckert of the village center is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Zanis of Reading, Pa.

Olive Fire Department Company No. 1 is sponsoring a spaghetti and meatball dinner at the Olive Bridge Firehouse on the evening of August 20 for the benefit of the fire equipment fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Walgurksi and children of Old Hurley were Shokan callers Saturday.

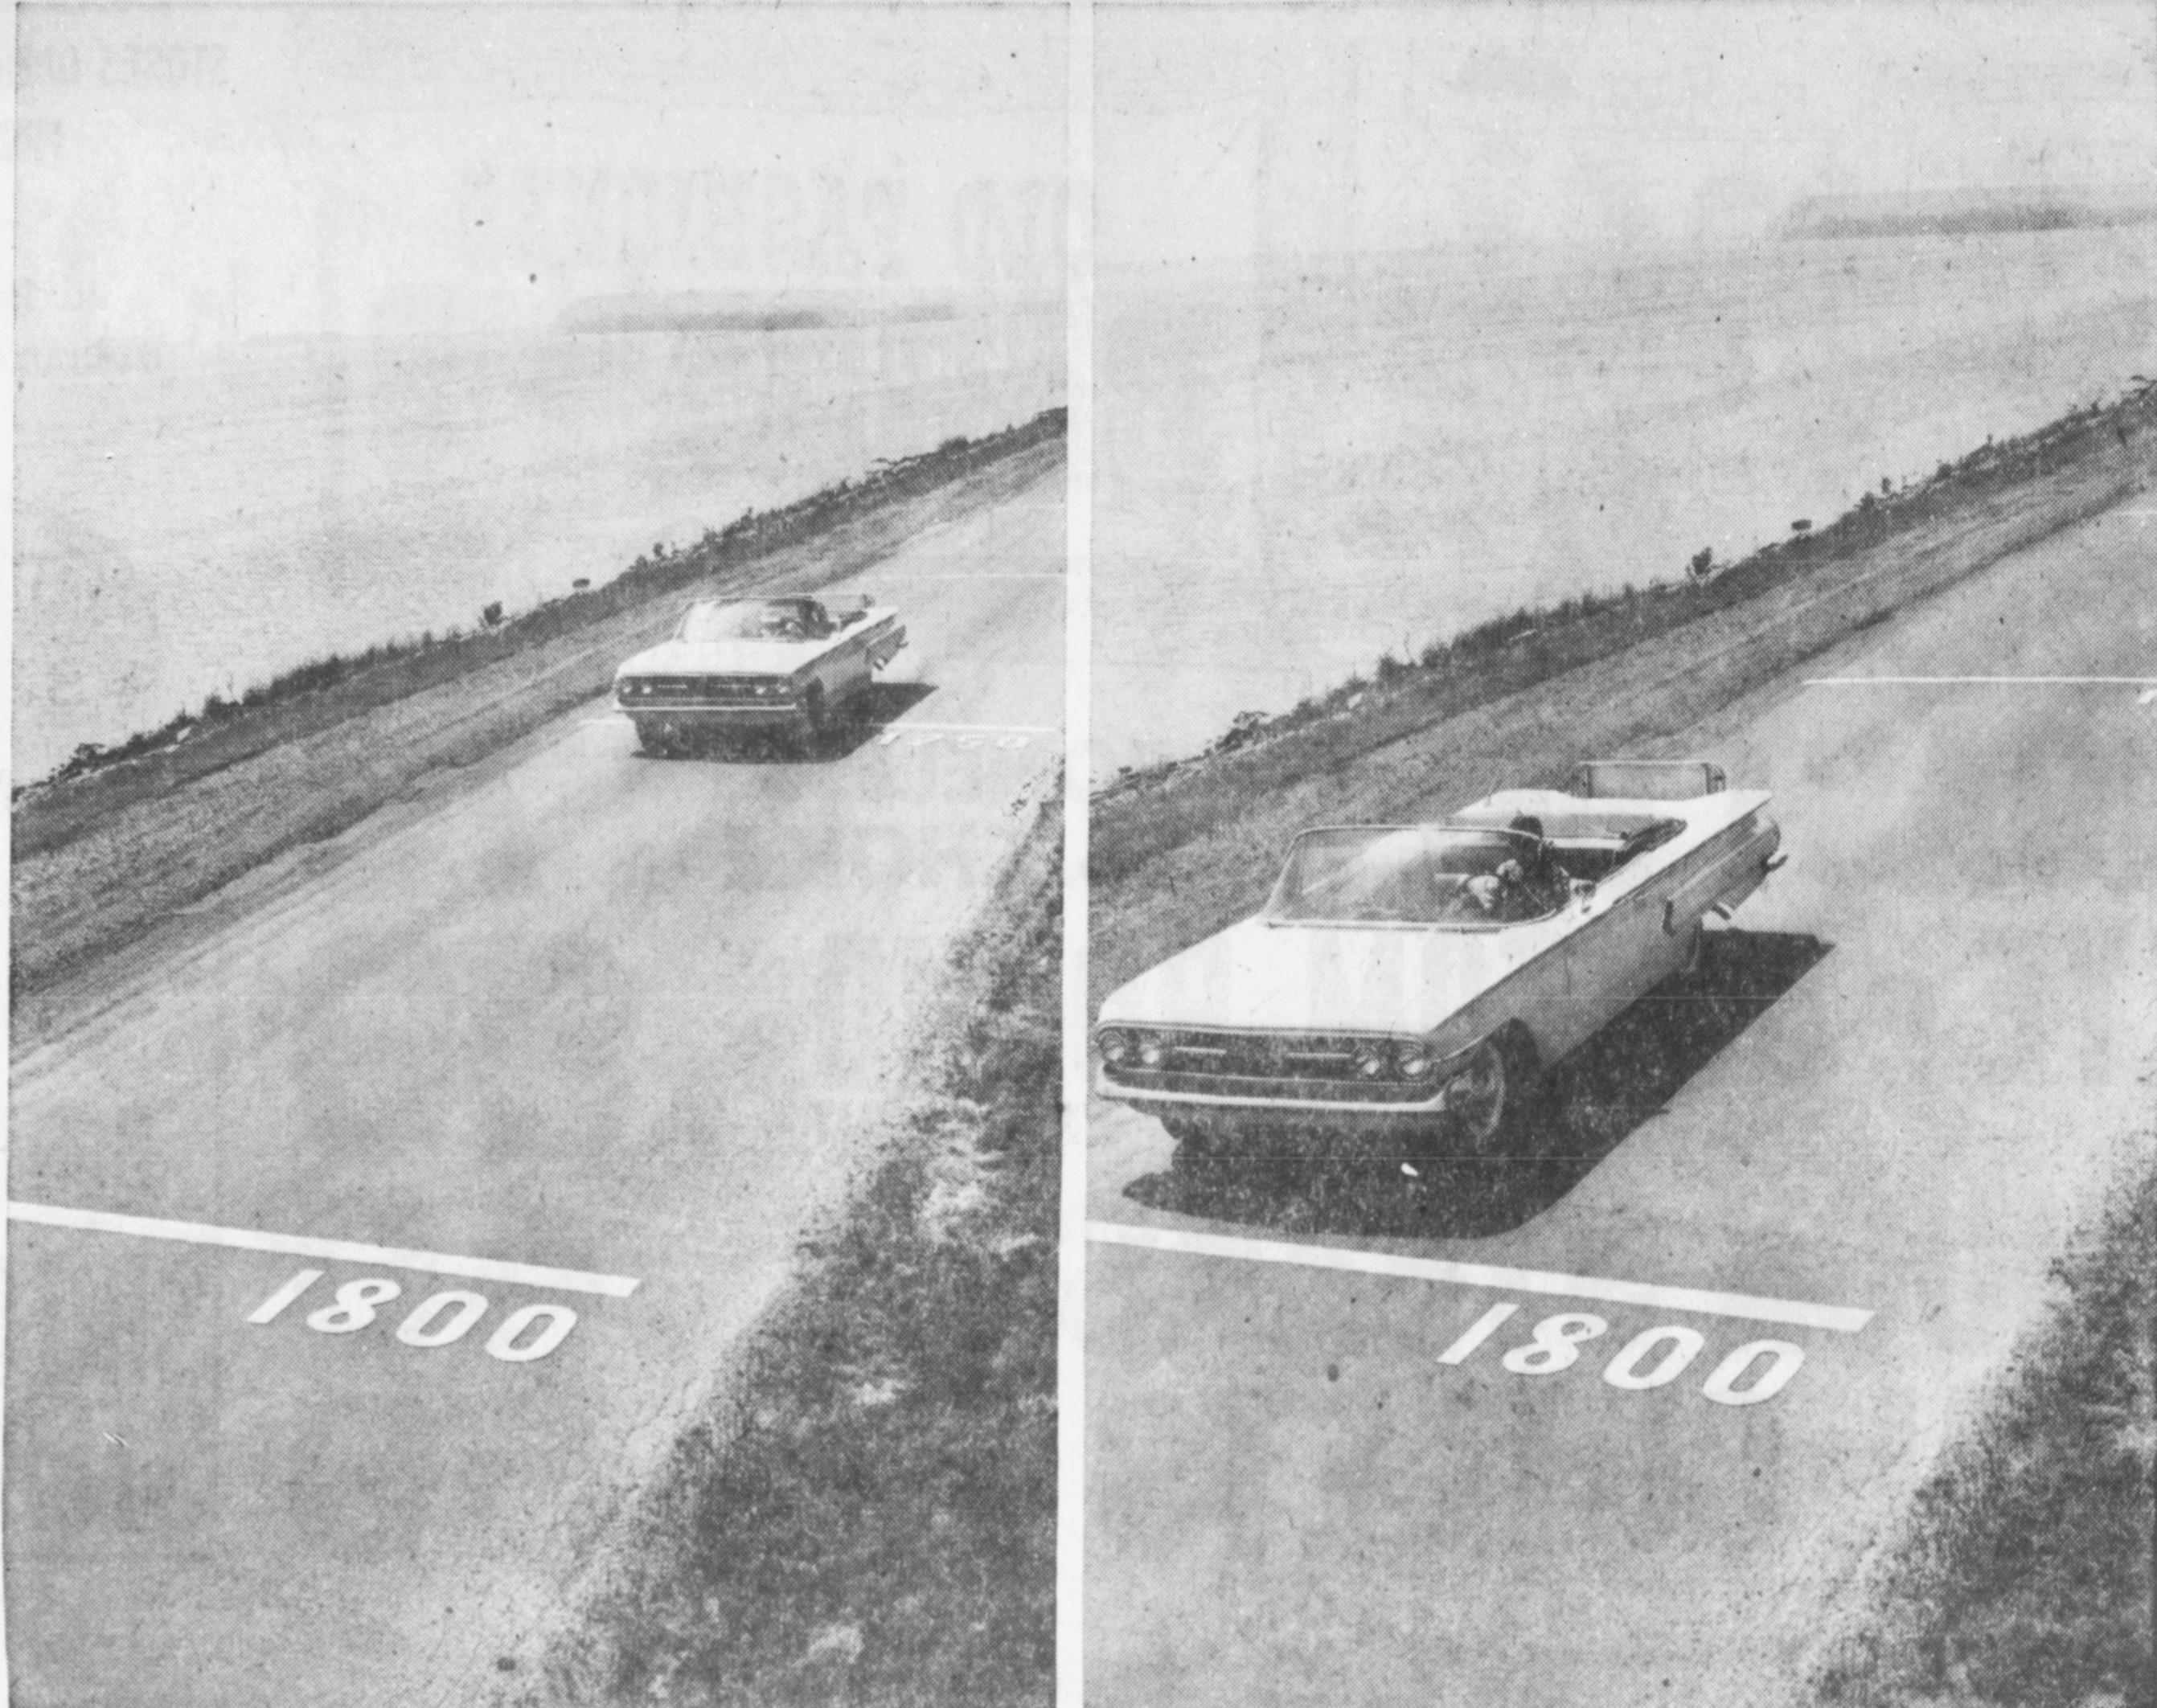

A new ski area for novices which will have its own chair-lift and other facilities is under construction at Belleayre.

Dr. Herbert and Margaret Zarcho, Kingston, were Sunday callers in the hub of the reservoir country.

Philip Chase of Putney, Vt., was at his Winchell Mountain place last weekend. Members of the Chase family own several hundred acres of woods and old fields at the head waters of the East Butternutkill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stevens spent a couple of days with relatives in Virginia last week. The couple also visited Williamsburg and other points of historical interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Castle have returned to Ashokan from a vacation trip to Minnesota.

Test car stops just past the 1750-foot mark. That's how far it goes on half cup of ordinary gasoline without Platformate. Platformate is Shell's extra mileage ingredient. Here's how the test is run. A half cup of gasoline without Platformate is carefully fed into the fuel system. The car is started, accelerated and held at an even 30 miles per hour until it runs out of gas.

Same car stops just before 1800-foot mark. That's how far it goes on half cup of today's Super Shell with Platformate. Same driver. Same test road. A half cup of today's Super Shell containing Platformate is used. Driven again at 30 miles per hour, car runs out of gas near 1800-foot mark. Super Shell wins by well over 40 feet. Imagine the extra distance a full tankful of Super Shell can give you.

MILEAGE TEST:

Shell test crew shows how one of the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell gasoline boosts mileage to give you top performance

One of the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell is a mileage booster called Platformate. Its components release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Here's how this extra energy is converted into extra mileage.

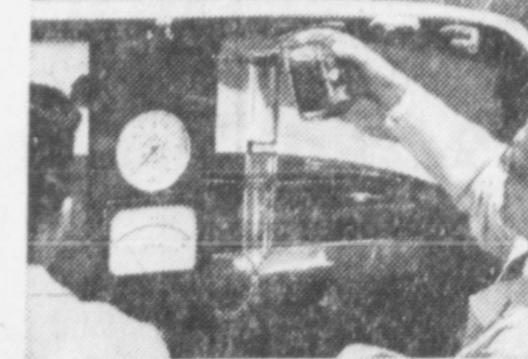

IT COSTS quite a lot of money to put Platformate in today's Super Shell. One of the reasons: Shell makes Platformate with a precious platinum catalyst. Eight million dollars' worth.

But Shell believes that every dollar is well spent. The dramatic mileage test above shows why.

Platformate is so packed with energy that it helps today's Super Shell take a conventional car, like the one you drive, measurably farther than a gasoline without Platformate.

How much farther? In repeated tests, an average of 48 feet per half cupful. That may not sound like much. But in 100 miles of driving, that 48 feet turns into 2.5 extra miles. A nice little bonus, no matter how you look at it.

Ed Yust of Shell Research pours Super Shell, with Platformate, directly into fuel system of convertible for mileage test. See big photograph above for results.

NOTE: Platformate gets its strange name from the platinum re-forming process which Shell scientists use in making this extraordinary ingredient. Huge pressures and temperatures up to 1000 degrees literally tear petroleum apart and then reform it into super-energy components such as benzene, xylene and toluene. These three, working together, release 11 per cent more energy than the finest 100 octane aviation gasoline.

You now know how one of Super Shell's nine ingredients helps to give your car top performance. Each of the others does an equally important job.

EXAMPLE: Shell's unique TCP® additive can help restore lost power—can make plugs last up to twice as long.

Now—Hot Weather Blend

Now that it's summer, Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula is adjusted to fight hot weather stalls—and give you top performance when highways sizzle. You can now get Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend at all Shell stations. Keep it in your tank. It just might save you a lot of trouble.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U. S. Patent 2889212.

The 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

- #1 is TCP for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
- #3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
- #4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
- #5 is Butane for quick starts.
- #6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
- #7 is an "anti-icer"—added in cold weather.
- #8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside.
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

Keating Proposes State's Rose for National Emblem

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., has no illusions about persuading Washington officialdom to adopt New York's State flower—the rose—as a national emblem.

Keating recently invited his fellow senators to a reception honoring the rose. He had introduced a resolution designating the rose as the national floral emblem.

But, from the tone of mailed replies from fellow senators, Keating may have a hard row to harrow before he plants rose bushes on the Capitol grounds.

Here are excerpts from some of the replies:

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo.—"The quality is rare and the beauty is supreme but you cannot divert my interest from the Colorado carnation. Shall we meet for a fast round on the floor one day soon?"

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill.—"I prefer the 100 per cent American goldencorn tassel."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif.—"Thank you for the lovely rose which was delivered to my office this morning. It is about as pretty as the California poppy."

64 Peace Corps Volunteers Are Going to Guide Colombian Farmers

By JAMES C. DEWEY

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Tucked away in a corner of Andean backlands is rural Cuatro Esquinas—onetime bustling stopover for muleteers and today one of several Colombian villages under consideration for an experiment in American idealism.

This all-but-forgotten farm community of some 400 persons is typical of the Colombian hamlets where 64 U.S. Peace Corps volunteers will be sent this fall to live and work with the campesinos in a two-year experimental program aimed at helping the Colombian farmer help himself.

Project officials still haven't decided where the volunteers will be sent when they arrive here the last of August for a final month of specialized training. But they'll all be used in a program of community development assistance.

Most Are Farmers

Ranging in age from 19 to 27, most of the volunteers have farm backgrounds. All have undergone intensive training in the United States.

Together with similarly trained young Colombians, they will drill wells, install water and sewage pipe lines, help build schools, gardens, roads, sanitary facilities, organize youth clubs, develop health programs, and introduce more efficient farm production methods.

CARE will contribute $100,000. After the two years CARE officials will evaluate the program and make recommendations about its future to both the Colombian government and the U.S. Peace Corps.

Peace Corps officials point out that while most U.S. foreign aid has been given for projects tending to underwrite central government operations the Colombian program will be directed "at the bottom of the social, political and economic pyramid where the need is most immediate and desperate."

People Easily Led

Cuatro Esquinas is under consideration for a Peace Corps project because the community, which is building an elementary school on its own, showed cooperative activity and willingness to work with an outside agency, a CARE official said. The outside agency in this case was CARE, which is helping with the school project.

Felix A. Soler, a young teacher at Cuatro Esquinas' new school, summed up the general situation: "The people here are good people but easily led," he said. "They will follow the first side—the Russians or the Americans—that comes here and convinces them."

Has Experience

CARE was picked to direct the operation because it has been working with the Colombian government for seven years on similar programs of community development.

The United States will invest about $785,000 in the project, and

But they don't want to be deceived with false promises. They'll all cooperate with the Americans, but they don't want projects left half done."

C of C Opposes Move to Set Up U.S. Water Body

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce today opposed legislation to establish a federal water resources council and river basin commissions.

A spokesman, Robert C. Wylie of Wausau, Wis., in prepared testimony before the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee and the Public Works Committee, said the bill would "tend to nationalize all water and related land resource planning and development."

Wylie said "wise conservation, development and utilization of the water resources...is of major importance. However, the development of these resources is the responsibility of all citizens—not the function solely of the federal government."

A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers said Congress would curtail its legislative powers if it passes the water resources council legislation in its present form.

The NAM spokesman, William G. McFadzean, of Minneapolis, urged that a clear declaration of policy be added to the bill. "Otherwise," he said, "the council would have the power to set the nation's water policies, a present prerogative of the Congress and clearly a legislative function."

He also said that Congress should alter the bill to allow the "development of water power by investor-owned, taxpaying utilities to forestall attempts to extend subsidized power."

School Building Plans Discussed By Board, State

A board of education committee met last week with State Department of Education officials at Albany to discuss proposed school building plans.

The board committee, headed by President Robert Herb, and accompanied by Miss Grace Anderson and Mrs. Inez Steele of the Citizens Advisory Committee, discussed various plans with Dr. A. D. Dotter of the buildings and grounds division of the State Education Department.

The committee has been requested by the board to ask the State Department of Education what special rooms would be necessary in a new building proposed to be built on the present high school site, planned to accommodate 300 pupils and intended to serve as a nucleus for later expansion; also to discuss plans for a 14-room elementary building in the northwest portion of the district.

Dr. Dotter indicated that the 14 more rooms on the present high school site and adjacent to the present building would meet the state mandates. They would consist of 10 regular classrooms, a homemaking room; two science rooms; and an art room.

The elementary building would probably consist of a kindergarten room; 12 regular classrooms; and one room for ungraduated pupils.

The board hopes to secure plans from the architect which would enable these buildings to be built at a cost not to exceed $1,200,000. The last proposed bond issue, which was defeated here last fall, called for the expenditure of $1,450,000 for a 1,000-pupil junior high school to house both junior high school and upper-grade pupils—the latter until an elementary building could be built.

This fall the board will find it necessary to place all fifth and sixth grade pupils, and three groups of ungraded pupils, on a reduced-time schedule. Also, each of 12 kindergarten groups will meet for only 2½ hours per day, with four rooms accommodating all 12 kindergarten groups.

The board plans at an early date to meet with the Citizens Advisory Committee, at which time it will outline proposals for buildings. It is expected that a bond issue to cover the costs of the two buildings will be submitted to voters in February.

Faculty Posts Open for Three Grade Teachers

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of education Monday, Superintendent Grant D. Morse reported that all members of the faculty for next year have been engaged except for three elementary positions. Candidates are still being considered for the three positions.

The resignation of Mrs. Sarah Freilich as matron of the custodial force at the high school was announced, and upon the recommendation of David H. Hildebrandt, superintendent of buildings and grounds, Mrs. Charles Livermore of Lighthouse Drive was appointed to the position effective Sept. 1.

Bids on an additional fire escape for Main Street School will be opened Aug. 24.

Today's Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP)—The threat to cut off Western trade with the Red bloc could upset the plans of a number of American companies both importers and exporters. But its total effect on U.S. world trade would be slight.

Its effect on the trade of some of our allies would be much greater, since they have cultivated the flow while we often discouraged it.

Could Hurt Economy

And the threatened embargo could hurt the economy of Soviet satellites such as Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany most of all.

The threat was voiced by West German Chancellor Adenauer, whose country would feel the embargo most of any of the Western group. He said a complete trade stoppage is one of the moves the West is considering to meet increasing Soviet restrictions in the Berlin crisis.

The word from Washington is only that such trade suspension is under consideration. London seems reluctant at the moment. All along, the United States has blocked any trade by American corporations with Red China but let the Soviet Union get goods regarded as of no or little military use, on an export license basis.

American exports to the Soviet Union and its European satellites increased in 1960 to a 13-year high of $193.4 million. Much of the jump was accounted for by agricultural sales to Poland. Imports held unchanged at $80.9 million.

We sent wheat, cotton, iron, some types of steel, soybeans, chemicals and some industrial equipment. We got from them meat, furs, platinum. The Soviet Union produces about one-fourth of world's new platinum supply each year.

Further Boost Expected

Until the Berlin crisis, American businessmen had looked for a further increase in two-way trade with the East because of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's promises to increase Russian consumer goods consumption.

America's allies have been doing much more business with the Reds, and some of it in goods and materials we hold to have military value.

Adenauer's West Germany—whose big market in the Red bloc is East Germany—exported to the chemicals, and steel worth $536 million in 1960. In return it got $472 million worth of farm products and lumber, among other things.

Won't Hurt Much

Although shipments to the Red bloc have been increasing this year, the total is still too small to make much of a dent in our foreign trade as a whole.

The $193.4 million export trade with the Reds last year barely shows in the over-all figure of $26.6 billion of commercial goods and services—that is, excluding

Roger Maris a Very Angry Man After Missing a 2nd Home Run

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris was an angry man Tuesday night after hitting his 46th homer of the season for the Yankees.

Maris' flow of words did not stem from the homer, which put him one ahead of Mickey Mantle in their tremendous duel with Babe Ruth's 60-homer record the objective. Rather, it stemmed from the home run he didn't hit as the Chicago White Sox nipped the Yankees 2-1 behind the four-hitter of Lefty Juan Pizarro.

"It couldn't have been foul by more than this much," growled Maris, holding his hands about three or four inches apart. "It was fair all the way until the final second. Then the darn thing hopped behind the pole."

Grid Giants Get Tittle From 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 49ers' veteran quarterback, Y.A. Tittle, has been traded by the San Francisco National Football League entry to the New York Giants.

In exchange, the 49ers, now basically a young club in the third year reign of Coach Red Hickey, picked up lineman Lou Cordileone.

Tittle, 35, is a 13-year pro veteran, 11 in the NFL, the last 10 with San Francisco. He owns the best pass completion average of any active quarterback, 53.5 per cent. In his 11 NFL campaigns,

The trade was made after Saturday's exhibition game between the two clubs. The Giants won 21-20, but Tittle almost pulled it out.

He came off the bench, rallied the 49ers from a 21-13 deficit and then hit Monte Stickle's in the end zone. But the play was called back.

2nd Game Decided With Three Runs In 9th Inning

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone scratched Detroit from the American League race, forget it. The Tigers look as if they mean to stay close enough to pounce on their first pennant in 16 years in their final two show-down encounters with the first place New York Yankees.

Fact is, if the bounce-back Tigers can keep it up, it might be the Yankees who are scrambling to get back on top when they meet again Sept. 1-3 at New York and Sept. 15-17 in Detroit.

Anyway you look at it, it's strictly a Tiger-Yank race—with Detroit's Frank Lary pressing Yankee Whitey Ford as the AL's top pitcher, Tiger Norm Cash battling New York Elston Howard for the batting title and Cash, Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline in the running with Yanks Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris for the Most Valuable Player Award.

Those four big men in Detroit's pitch for a pennant kept the Tigers on the prowl with a double-header sweep over Baltimore Tuesday night. Lary won his 17th with a four-hitter shutout in a 2-0 first game victory decided by Cash's two-run homer. And Kaline then delivered the payoff in a three-run ninth that won the nightcap 3-2.

A Four Hitter

Southpaw Juan Pizarro knocked off the Yankees 2-1, meanwhile, by allowing just four hits, one Maris' 46th home run, as the Chicago White Sox ended Ford's winning streak at 14 games and shaved New York's lead over Detroit to two games.

In the other AL games, Boston batted Cleveland 8-0 with five home runs, the Los Angeles Angels defeated Washington 8-7 and Minnesota cracked Kansas City 9-4.

Lary (17-6) gave up nothing but singles while hanging up his third shutout. He struck out five and walked only two in a double-four-hitter duel with loser Chuck Estrada (9-7) and Hoyt Wilhelm. Cash, who has a two percentage point lead over Howard in the batting race at .357, settled it by socking his 30th home run, with Colavito on base, in the seventh inning.

Four Straight Hits

The Tigers then battled back from defeat in the nightcap for their sixth success in eight games, coming from behind on four consecutive singles off loser Hec Brown (9-2) and relievers Billy Hoeft and Wes Stock with two out in the ninth. Chico Fernandez started the rally with a one-out double before Reno Bertoia, pinch-hitters Bubba Morton and George Alusik and Kaline singled. Alusik's first major league hit.

Team highs were Manfrino's with 2663 and Ramsey's Hi Fi with 947 without handicap and Lamoreaux with 2670 and Morgan Hill 942 with handicap. And didn't have any trouble except for Maris' fifth home run in five games in the fifth inning. That broke a tie between Mantle and Maris and sent Roger 14 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 pace of 1927.

The trade was made after Saturday's exhibition game between the two clubs. The Giants won 21-20, but Tittle almost pulled it out.

He came off the bench, rallied the 49ers from a 21-13 deficit and then hit Monte Stickle's in the end zone. But the play was called back.

Manfrino's Pro Shop Wins Title in Sangi Classic

Manfrino's Pro Shop won 25 games and lost 14 to capture honors in the Sangi Summer Classic. Les Havens was the men's leader with a mark of 176 in 39 games while Larry Hartigan was second with 173.

Team highs were Manfrino's with 2663 and Ramsey's Hi Fi with 947 without handicap and Lamoreaux with 2670 and Morgan Hill 942 with handicap.

Even after their 5-2 victory over the Dodgers tonight, the Reds will have only 12 games left on the road and 23 at home. The Dodgers play 27 on the road, only 14 at home.

Even when you take into account that the Dodgers have been more successful abroad than at the Coliseum, the schedule still seems to favor Cincinnati. After tonight the Reds will have 12 games remaining with first division clubs, the Dodgers 20.

Moreover, the Reds will be idle 10 days during September. This may permit manager Fred Hutchinson to lighten the load on his young pitchers, who have come upon troubled times lately. He could, in fact, use his top three starters almost exclusively.

"I don't really know if the schedule will be a big advantage," Hutchinson said. "We just hope that's the way it works out. We're still four games down on the loss side. Those are four games that the Dodgers have got to lose—that we've already lost."

With Satchel Paige

Sugar Cain, Curve Ball Ace, With Kansas City Monarchs

Marion (Sugar) Cain, pitcher and coach of the Kansas City Monarchs, is rated as one of the best curve ball pitchers in baseball.

The 29-year-old, 190-pound Cain will be with the Monarchs and the legendary Leroy (Satchel) Paige on Tuesday, Aug. 22, at Dietz Stadium.

A former Cleveland Indian farmhand, he has had considerable experience against major league hitters.

While touring with the Willie Mays All Stars against the Roy Sievers All Stars, he compiled the excellent record of four wins in five starts and was the leading pitcher on the tour.

Cain got the nickname "Sugar" from the immortal Paige after one of their pitching duels during the beginning of his career.

In 1958, Cain struck out 14 major leaguers in a 10-inning, 2-2 pitching duel with Connie Johnson of the Baltimore Orioles. It was during the tour between Willie Mays' All Stars and the Negro American League Stars.

After that, the Willie Mays Stars accepted Cain as a major leaguer and placed him on their barnstorming roster.

Major Prospects

Cain, now coaching with the Monarchs, states that he will have two or three major league prospects this year, with Tony Taylor the most promising.

Another stickout pitching prospect on the Monarchs squad is Ben Adams, 6 foot 1, 21-year-old from Norfolk, Virginia, now in his third season with the Monarchs. Last year his record was an impressive 31-8 with a strikeout average of better than 11 per game.

Adams appeared in a total of 59 games during the 1960 season. He is also a .298 hitter and Monarch's owner Ted Raspberry and major league scouts predict that Adams will move into organized baseball next season.

The 35 Club put together only five hits against 11 for the Vols but took advantage of the wildness of starter Bob Smith. He issued 12 passes. George Dall of the losers and catcher Richie Hart of the 35 Club whacked doubles.

Vince Crantz went the distance to pick up the win. Dan Fiore and Terry Conlin solved his slants for two singles each but he was tough in the clutch.

Rudy Dirks and Bill Richter combined to hurl a one-hitter and the Sioux captured the Metropolitan Knothole league crown with a 2-0 win over Apache yesterday.

Dicks walked four and fanned eight during his three inning stint while Richter issued one walk and set six batters down on strikes.

Jets' Lead Now Up to Eight Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Columbus Jets are driving hard for their first International League pennant in 20 years.

The Jets swept a doubleheader from Rochester, 1-0 and 3-1 Tuesday night, to increase their league lead to 8 games. Columbus' "magic number" with 28 games to go is 25.

In other IL action, Buffalo and Charleston split a twin bill. The Marlins dropped the opener, 5-1, but bounced back with a 7-2 victory in the nightcap. Richmond edged Syracuse, 4-3. Jersey City snapped a three-game losing streak by beating Toronto, 4-3.

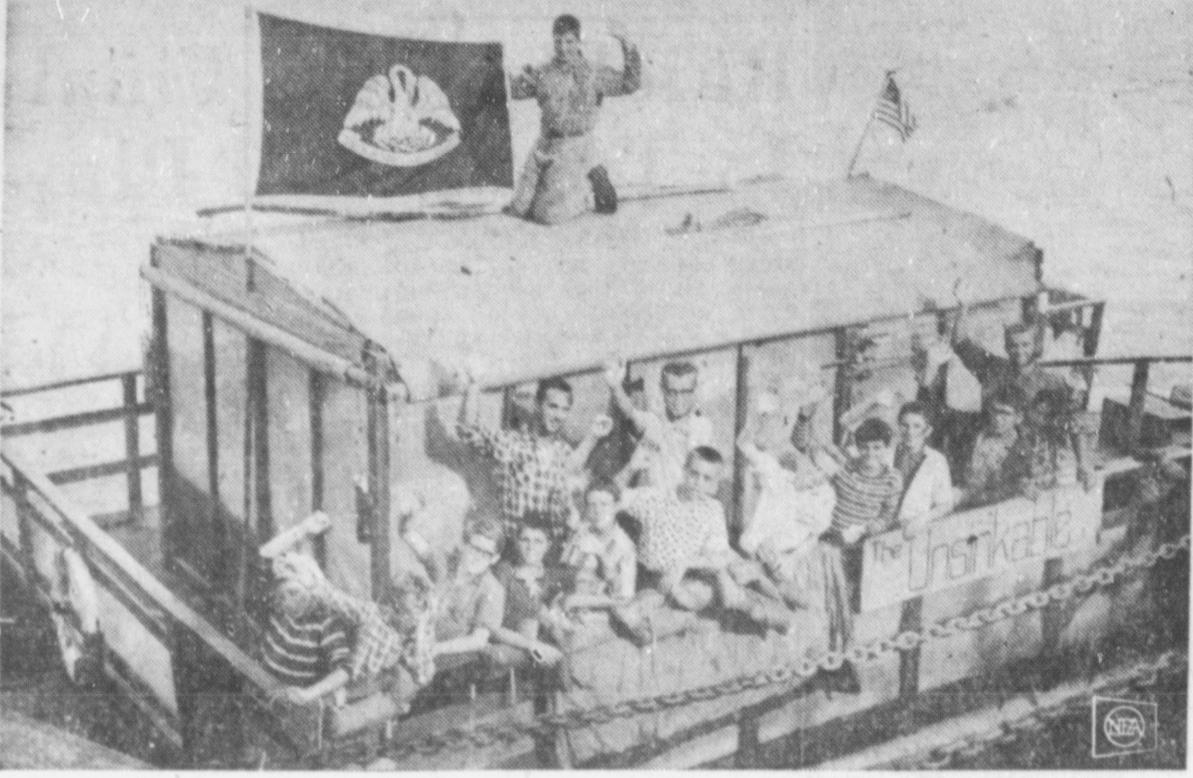

Larry Elliot's 14th home run with a man on in the sixth inning of the second game, gave Jet southpaw Al Jackson his 10th victory. Fred Valentine hit a homer in the seventh for Rochester's only run of the night.

The Bisons collected five of their eight hits and four of their five runs in the second inning of the opener.

Don Lock's eighth home run in 10 days, a two-run shot in the 10th inning, won the ball game for Richmond. Syracuse had taken a one-run lead in the top of the frame on Dan Dobek's run-scoring single. The Chiefs started the scoring with two unearned runs in the fourth. Three singles in the bottom of the frame gave the Virginians a run, and they added another tally in the eighth to tie the game. Gary Blaylock was the winner in relief.

Infield Hits, Error Decide Eastern Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were six home runs in the Binghamton - Springfield Eastern League game Tuesday night.

But, you know what, the outcome hinged on two infield singles and an error.

Binghamton put them together for a 7-6 victory with the seventh inning to trim Springfield's first-place lead to 8 1/2 games.

Third-place Williamsport also gained a game on Springfield by defeating Johnstown 6-2 and Lancaster defeated Reading 2-0.

Charley Dees belted two homers for Springfield and Joe Sparks one while Rich Berry, Charley Keller and Al Hall hit them for Binghamton.

But it was a walk to Hall, Len Ferguson's bunt single, an error by Rick Joseph on another bunt, a sacrifice fly and an infield single by Elvio Jiminez that sent home the two deciding runs in the seventh for Binghamton. Ferguson (6-2) was the winner.

Bite in Law

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (NEA) — Maybe mosquitoes do some good after all. Ted Overholser believes they are helping to solve Ohio Division of Wildlife enforcement problems. "In past years," said Overholser, district law enforcement supervisor, "there have always been a few illegal hunters in southern Ohio who started hunting squirrels before the opening of the season. This year the mosquitoes are so bad that they apparently have kept the pre-season hunters out. This hasn't kept the enforcement men out of the woods. They have bites to prove it."

Rigby Says North Would Have Lost Without N.Y. Aid

The Auburn Yanks have dealt a twin blow to Batavia's hopes of tightening up the New York-Penn Baseball League race.

The Yanks swept a doubleheader from the Pirates Tuesday night, 9-8 and 13-6, to climb out of the cellar. The loss was only the third for Batavia in its last 13 games but dropped the Pirates 7 1/2 lengths back of the Geneva Redlegs, who edged Elmira, 8-7.

Elsewhere around the league, Olean's pinch-hitting pitcher, Bob Marr, came through with a grand-slam homer as the Red Sox upended Erie, 12-10, in the ninth inning. Jamestown battered Wellsville, 10-3, but dropped into last place behind Auburn.

The Yanks plated two ninth-inning runs in their 8-7 first-game victory over Batavia as Danny Oeff sparked the rally with a triple. Julian Vincente rocketed a three-run homer in the fifth inning of the nightcap.

Geneva's Dick Rowe smashed a bases-loaded single to left field in the ninth to give the league-leaders a come-from-behind victory over Elmira.

Third-place Williamsport also gained a game on Springfield by defeating Johnstown 6-2 and Lancaster defeated Reading 2-0.

Charley Dees belted two homers for Springfield and Joe Sparks one while Rich Berry, Charley Keller and Al Hall hit them for Binghamton.

But it was a walk to Hall, Len Ferguson's bunt single, an error by Rick Joseph on another bunt, a sacrifice fly and an infield single by Elvio Jiminez that sent home the two deciding runs in the seventh for Binghamton. Ferguson (6-2) was the winner.

Terrorists Hit,

2 Dead, Thirteen

Others Wounded

ALGIERS (AP) — Terrorist bombings, shootings and stabbings in Algeria and France Tuesday killed two persons—including the Moslem spiritual leader of Bone—and wounded 13.

Mufti Ben el Mihoub Abdel Aziz, was knifed to death on the steps of a mosque. Authorities believe the killer, who escaped, was with the Mufti's friendly attitude toward France.

The other fatality was an Algerian killed when three North Africans threw a grenade into a cafe in Thionville, France.
